Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) is NOT a heart attack. SCA is a condition that causes the heart to unexpectedly & abruptly quit beating. This is usually caused by an abnormal heart rhythm called ventricular fibrillation (VF).

The only effective treatment for VF is an electrical shock called defibrillation. Defibrillation is an electrical current applied to the chest. The electrical current passes through the heart with the goal of stopping the VF and providing an opportunity for the heart's normal electrical system to take control. This current helps the heart reorganize the electrical activity so it can pump blood again. An automated external defibrillator (AED) can defibrillate the heart.

Zoll AED Plus®

The AED Plus' unique graphical interface – pictures combined with text displays and voice prompts – helps rescuers every step of the way. Lights on the pictures draw the rescuer's attention to actions in the proper sequence. Text and voice prompts correspond to the pictures and help the rescuer perform every important life-saving action. These pictures and prompts assure that everything is done in order, and that shocks, if required, are delivered rapidly.
